Strengthen Your Leadership: Proactive Executive Protection for Executives and Board Members

Buckingham is your solution.

The Buckingham team has extensive experience in providing companies with the tools to protect their executive team – from a physical audit of their workplace and home environments to a more in-depth threat assessment to executive protection.

Our experts offer impartial information to assist your company in assessing acceptable risk levels and identifying key factors for enhancing security solutions.

An efficient process that simplifies and makes it cost-effective for your company to move forward.

Benefits of Protecting Your Executive Team

- Enhance safety and security
- Identify and mitigate risk before it escalates
- Protect the company's assets and reputation
- Potential cost savings in the long run

Our 6-Step Security Assessment Process

1. Understand the goal of the security assessment
2. An initial audit of the physical security environment
3. Interview people who have access to these areas
4. Identify the controls, and countermeasures if any, that are in place to mitigate those risks
5. Assess the mitigation strategies and procedures to address the risks in the near term
6. Comprehensive and confidential report including detailed findings
